Jan 4 Moray Council Chief Executive to leave - The Moray Council has agreed to differ with its suspended Chief Executive and will allow him to leave its employment to take up a position in England. The move has not come as any great surprise to those who have been keeping an eye on affairs. Mr Stewart who moved to Moray from the Western Isles had only been Chief Executive for a short time, being suspended for a matter of months. Until the position of Chief Executive is filled the work will be carried on by acting Chief Executives Alistair Keddie and Ms Karen Williams.

Salvation Army , Christmas Day lunch - This proved to be the success it has always been - a day to remember by those who were present.

Banffshire Field Club - (see page 7) Mrs Phyllis Goodall gave a talk on names on the landscape of the Cabrach. This being based on a project carried out by Professor Nicolaisen at Aberdeen University. Most of the upland places and water course were Gaelic names filtered through north east Scots pronunciation and the English phonetic spelling of the map-makers e.g. Ardwell, Belcherrie and Craigline.

On the other hand Scots/English names appear in Upper Howbog and Broomknowes attached to marshy hollows or bare windswept ridges- not just descriptive of the topography like the Gaelic predecessors but they put a subtle emphasis on the less than attractive nature of the terrain when it comes to prospective agricultural usage as Professor Nicolaisen suggests.

It is interesting, said Mrs Goodall that more of the Scots/English names of buildings in the Cabrach have disappeared than have the Gaelic ones.

Jan 11 View reinstated - For the first time in a generation people in Fochabers looking from the Square have an uninterrupted view of the attractive frontage of Gordon Chapel at the end of Duke Street. The view has been blocked for many years by an unsightly toilet block/bus shelter until it was demolished this summer. In addition to the recovered view the area where the block stood has received a face-lift.

A rather special baby - A New Year's Day and Millennium present arrived for a Findochty couple. Dalma and Daryn Jappy, Reidhaven Crescent, who were delighted to discover that little Chelsea was to make her appearance in the world a mite earlier than predicted and a little boy, Marc (7) was thrilled that all the excitement of the festive season was far from being over when his baby sister arrived at 6.15am on New Year's Day at Dr Gray's Hospital in Elgin, weighing in at 6lbs 9oz. The little girl was the first born in Moray in the New Year and the hospital staff gave her a teddy bear, a little suit and a beautifully inscribed nursery rhymes book with her name and all her details on it.

Advert - The Linen Basket, 61 West Church Street (formerly known as Smith's Sports) were holding a sale.

Buckpool celebrates - Buckpool celebrated the advent of the New Year and the new millennium with a fireworks display at the Boys Club Hall (Turner Pavilion) at Merson Park followed by a sing along with Andy Layton James.

Ging oot and dee something - In a letter to the editor Allan Fraser takes issue with a previous letter writer who complained that Buckie never does anything. He mentioned a number of organisations such as the Friends of Seafield Hospital, Buckie District Fishing

Heritage Museum, Buckie and District Flower Show, all who did a lot of work and were ever looking for volunteers to help out. He ended by saying dinna wait for ithers tae dee a' thing, tak aff yer jacket and gees a shuv.

Far they wint wrang and fit's needed - James Newlands in a letter on page 12 refers back to a poem that had been printed the previous week and put forward what had been done wrongly in the past going on to say what he felt was needed before Buckie became a ghost town or at best just a place where you slept all night. See both on page 12

'A Walk on the Wild Side' is the title given to a short story written for the Millennium by Lorna Campbell (reporter). It is to be found on page 13.

Jan 18 A new lease of life for Benreay on the cards - The former doctor's surgery on Seaview Place that has been subjected to considerable vandalism since being vacated by doctors and other staff, who moved to the new Ardach Health Centre on Highfield Road, may soon have a face lift and a new lease of life if plans for its future go through. Hanover (Scotland) Housing Association Limited is currently in negotiation with Grant (Construction) Elgin Ltd, owners of the property, regarding the acquisition and its conversion into flats.

Lodge Gordon's No. 589 - Kenneth Lawtie was recently installed as Rt. Worshipful Master of Lodge Gordons No. 589 by IPM Malcolm Reid.

What's in a name? - Allan Fraser writes an article on 'Tee' names. This is found on page 9

A short poem 'Finechty' is to be found on page 12

We're just and we're honest
We're happy and we're free
There's nae fowk like us
In the hale country.
We've wir ain Finechty hairber
Wir ain Toon Hall
Wir ain Salvation Army
And wir ain Stroup wall!!

A copy of the poem, requested by someone, was provided by the volunteers of the Heritage Museum.

Karl forwards his views - Karl Fraser who now lives in Leith Walk, Edinburgh and who describes himself as an exile and football enthusiast bemoans the loss of yet two more teams from the Highland League after Ross County, the Caley and Inverness Thistle now Elgin City and Peterhead and feels that the winner of the Highland League today will have achieved much less than those in days of yore. The loss of Elgin City would be felt by Thistle supporters, like himself, who enjoyed nothing better than watching tussles between the two old rivals, more so if the Jags should come out on top. He was of the opinion that for a number of reasons Elgin City would find the going hard but wished them all the best. (Karl's predictions have been proved correct with Elgin City never yet managing to get beyond the Third Division and in season 2006/07 had still to win a game by the last week of September, losing 8 games on the trot. Brian Irvine ex Aberdeen F.C. was the manager at the time.)

Jan 25 Legion stalwart dies - The death took place on Friday 21st January in Seafield Hospital of Mrs Alice Chalmers, 14 Bryson Crescent, Craigbo. She was a well known and highly respected member of the Royal British Legion (Buckie branch) and had served on a number of other organisations including the community council, the OAP Association. She served in WRNS during World War II.

The building of the Preshome Chapel - In an article found on page 10 a description is given of the building of St Gregory's R.C. Chapel at Preshome, Clochan. The church was opened in 1779 when Mr Reid was parish priest. He kept a diary of every stage of its construction, including the names of all the workmen involved. The 'diary' was 'discovered' by Ian Bryce of Aberdeen who had it typed up. A copy came into the hands of Allan Fraser who was responsible for having it printed in the 'Banffshire Advertiser'.

A poem by Edward Mitchell is found on page 12, columns 6/7

Isla St Clair and a fund-raising cassette - Isla St Clair, the Findochty-born singer is one of a number of stars who have contributed to a new fund-raising cassette, titled - "A Sang Fae North East Scotland"

Installed as master of Craigenroan Lodge - The newly installed Rt. Worshipful Master of Lodge Craigenroan is Jimmy Gunn, Junior, of Portgordon. The installation was performed by Malcolm Reid Past Master of Lodge Gordons No. 589.

Feb 1 Findochty's Millennium baby - Chelsea Jappy, infant daughter of Dalma and Daryn Jappy received a beautiful gold bracelet inscribed with her name in a case with a small plaque which reads, Findochty Millennium Baby 01-01-00. This was presented to the parents by the treasurer of Findochty Community Council Christine Campbell. Vice chairman of the council said: "It's from all the folk in Findochty to mark the special occasion of Chelsea's birth. It's something she'll be able to keep."

Museum may be forced to move - Buckie District Fishing Heritage Museum may have to relocate in the future to premises in the Buckie Drifter that are more able to accommodate the vast collection of artefacts and items of local interest. There is no disguising the fact that Moray Council would like the Museum to move to the 'Drifter' and so encourage a greater number of visitors to call there. The majority of the members of the Heritage are less than keen on the move, being of the opinion that their identity could be lost, also there is the question of volunteers working with those that are paid.

Electrical shop to become a café - Plans have been put forward to change the former electrical shop long time occupied by Hunter and Pirie on East Church Street into a bakery outlet and restaurant.

Sic a din! The pilot of a tornado aeroplane from RAF Lossiemouth who caused a tremendous bang when he broke the sound barrier over the Moray Firth last week may well be reprimanded. The pilot who is due to leave the services to become a pilot with a civilian airline may have seen the supersonic bang as something of a leaving prank, it has been reported.

Rovers now in a purple and white ensemble - Buckie Rovers whose traditional strip has been white hence the nickname the 'Lilywhites' are now playing in a strip of purple with white trim. The new outfit was donated by Scotscoup the Bookies and was handed over to captain Mark Wood by John Russell, director. The Rovers' side are all local this year and presently sit proudly at top of the league. The manager is George Wright with the trainer being former keeper, Graeme Roy.

Feb 8 Now the boss - Alistair Keddie, Depute Chief Executive for Finance and IT at Moray Council for the past four years has been appointed Chief Executive by members of the Council

The history of Episcopacy in our area - The following notes were taken from an article found on page 14 of this edition of the 'Advertiser'. Mention is made of an Episcopal Church, following the Reformation, being built on the banks of the Buckie Burn on the old road that went past Arradoul. This was said to have been burned down by Cumberland's troops in 1745. The site of the church is disputed by Rev Jeremy Paisey, who was minister of the church in the 1990's and into the new millennium, and who had done a lot of research on the subject. He is of the opinion that it was much nearer to the church at Rathven, a mile away to the east. A second church was built much nearer Arradoul and close by 'Arradoul House'. The original house was built by the laird of Cairnfield for his daughter who married the then minister in the early 19th century.

What you may not know about whisky – the 'Water of Life' - 2% of whisky produced evaporates – known as the 'Angel's Share.'

A dram can apply only to a measure of Scots whisky and the size depends entirely on the generosity of the pourer.

The 'cup o' kindness' referred to in Burns' 'Auld Lang Syne' is whisky – the spirit of friendship.

The French drink more Scotch in a month than Cognac in a year.

If it is not distilled and matured in Scotland whisky cannot be called 'Scotch'.

Feb 15 An injection of new blood - The Cubs in Buckie received a welcome injection of new blood last week with the integration of the Cullen pack and their leader into the Buckie pack. This marks the end of the Cub pack in Cullen for the time, at least.

Michael Higgins who took over as Buckie leader in August last year from Gordon Mackie welcomed the new arrivals for their investiture at the Scout Hall in Newlands Lane last week.

Mr Higgins said: "We now have up to 25 boys and girls attending now and we are looking forward in to the future with optimism."

'Tee' names - Some time before Allan Fraser wrote an article on the 'Tee' names that were used amongst the fishing fraternity in the area from Portgordon to Cullen. A Mr R. C. Findlay (Hooker) of Fife wrote to the 'Advertiser' to ask why the surname Findlay had been omitted, this being by far the most common surname in Cullen in the past. He provided a list of the 'Tee' names that were used by Findlays to distinguish one from the other. Mr Fraser also added more 'Tee' names that he had come across since the first article was printed.

Book review - Lorna Campbell who had been working as a reporter with the 'Advertiser' as a reporter for some time in this edition reviews a new book that has just been published called – 'Stertin Oot in Scots' This is found on page 11.

A poem is found on page 11, columns 3 and 4 titled 'The Lang Lie In'

Station celebrates its 'Silver' anniversary – 'Buckie Radio' or if you prefer its original title 'Radio Buckie' was 25 years old yesterday, the 14th February. It first opened on 14th February 1975 and has been a beacon on the air ever since.

Feb 22 Local footballer to be International Manager - George Cowie, a native of Findochty, former professional footballer with West Ham and Heart of Midlothian has been appointed International Manager and coach of the Solomon Isles, South Pacific football side. George who has been involved in football in Australia for the past three years has signed a two year contract.

Buckie District Fishing Heritage Museum - The officials and committee members elected to serve for session 1999/2000 are as follows - Chairman - Willie Mair; vice chairman - Hugh Patience; secretary - Allan Fraser ; treasurer- Frank Macleod; photographic officers - Alistair Coull and Walter Flett.

Committee members - Margaret Bruce, Alex Cowie, Peter B. Flett, David Mair, Elsie Murray, Ron Stewart, Jean Taylor, Peter Bruce, Jeannie B. Cowie, Isabel Harrison, Jessie Mair, James Slater and Sandy Sutherland.

The Heritage Museum have had published a Millennium Issue of the Heritage News and it will soon be available for purchase by the general public. It contains a number of articles and photographs.

BABS - New bus service for the disabled - A new bus service is to begin operating in the Buckie area on Monday 28 February and is being launched to provide transport for those who because of disability are unable to use the normal Bluebird buses. The new innovative scheme, names BABS (Dial a Bus Scheme) will enable customers to telephone in advance and arrange to be uplifted and dropped off at their own doors by any of the services.

Feb 29 You can watch for free - People who are over 75 years of age will receive free TV licenses when the concession comes into effect on 1st November 2000.

A change of compiler - James Thomson who has performed the work of finding the material for the page 'Look Back to the Past' in the 'Advertiser' for a considerable time was missing in this edition with his place being taken by Gary Madgwich.

Mar 7 Forsyth's (Roths) - A local company has just completed the first part of a major oil and gas related contract for Kvaerner Oil and Gas and has secured the employment of its workforce, numbering around 250 throughout all its component companies with another 20 to 30 jobs to be created in the longer term with recruitment presently taking place.

Forsyth's (Roths) who now occupy the former Hamilton Brothers, Engineers premises on Commercial Road won the major contract against fierce international companies for the supply of Kvaerner Oil and Gas of Croydon of 100tonnes tanks and vessels for the Huida Statoil EPC Platform Topsides Project.

Mony a Mickle Maks a Muckle - The title chosen by the editor for an article written by Allan Fraser in which he lists some features of the past in Buckie.

Local artist has an exhibition - Fiona Bruce, nee Bowie, of Letterfourie Road is exhibiting some of her fine paintings in the Ardach Health Centre and art lovers will be able to view her work for some time.

The fishing scene - Six fishing boats last week landed 547 boxes of fish at Buckie harbour also 133 bags of scallops. The boats were - Crystal River, Onward, Nordic Prince, Deeside, Kelly and Tjeerd Jacoba.

He has reached the figure of 600 – Alan 'Mickey' McPherson reached his 600th competitive appearance for Buckie Thistle in his 17 years with the club when he turned out against Rothes last week. He received a number of presents from the President Ray Cardno, from James Newlands of the Supporters Club and others. He was clapped on to the park by both sets of players and supporters of both clubs.

Mar 14 Buckie boat sinks and breaks up - The Buckie boat, 'Boy Leslie' BCK1, skipper Robert Mair, sank as it was leaving Gairloch and was smashed into pieces against the rocks. The skipper stayed aboard the vessel for some time as he tries to get a rope attached to another vessel to pull him clear but it was a vain attempt and eventually he had to scramble on to the rocks to safety as she turned turtle and began to break up. The 'Boy Leslie', originally called the 'Kedana' was built by 'Tappies' in 1970. Mr Mair has been unfortunate losing a second boat, five years ago his previous boat, the 'Zephrus' was also lost.

Flag with Coat of Arms for Cullen - Cullen has received its new flag bearing the Coat of Arms of the Royal Burgh which was granted Royal Burgh status by King William the Lion of Scotland between 1189 and 1198. The flag bears the Latin motto – For Ever and Ever, being a popular choice.

Look Back to the Past - James Thomson who had been missing as the compiler for a week or two being abroad on holiday was back in his position this week.

Mar 21 Croft house to be demolished. The last house on Great Western Road, Buckpool, which had been the dwelling house of a croft and occupied by Ian Paterson and his family for many years though unoccupied for some time past, is to be demolished after Grampian Country Park was given this permission. They are to construct a car park on the space.

The 'Buckie Drifter' has become the first museum in Moray to attain a prestigious national registration mark. See report on page 4. The manager Mr David Williamson said that they had been working towards achieving this over the past three years.

Boys Brigade parade - Photographs in this edition of the 'Advertiser' shows the 2nd Company Buckie Boys Brigade followed by Portessie Battalion Boys Brigade also the 1st Buckie Boys Brigade in the annual parade of the Banffshire Battalions. The salute was taken by George C. Smith a former officer in the 1st Company, associated with the South and West Church.

Look Back to the Past – compiler Gary Madgwich.

Mar 28 The end of the line - The Buckie Initiative has been wound down with funding having ceased and Mandy Holmes having moved to a new position with the local LEC (Moray Badenoch and Strathspey Enterprises). A new initiative, however, has been set up, which although it has a less broad remit than the Buckie Initiative should go some way to helping rejuvenate town centres in four Moray towns, Buckie, Keith, Lossiemouth and Elgin. There is a kitty of £160,000 to be split four ways giving £40,000 to be spent in each town. Mark Cross, a Planning Officer with Moray Council is to act as Chairman and liaison officer for each of the groups, consisting of volunteers, set up in each of the four towns.

Friday Club winds up - The Friday Club for the Disabled is to close down at the end of March after being in existence for 28 years. The reason for the end is due to a lack of members. In the late 1980's the number of members was up to 30 but recently it was as low as four or five, less than the number of helpers.

Look Back to the Past - This was compiled this week by Mark Findlay.

The fishing scene - Last week thirteen boats called in to Buckie harbour to land their catches. This comprised in total – 475 boxes of white fish, 240 boxes of prawns, 553 boxes of shrimps and 793 bags of scallops.

The boats were – Atlantic, Kelly, Monadliath, Aspire, Copious, Deeside, Tjeerd Jacoba, Clupea, Caroline Dawn, Rival, Pisces and Falcon.

April 4 Good news on the shipbuilding front - Buckie shipyard received orders for three new boats at the Fishing Exhibition held in Glasgow last week.

Two of the boats will be 16.7metres in length with the third being 17.6metres. The three will be powered by Caterpillar engines with the shorter ones having Perkins auxiliary engines and the longer a Volvo engine.

April 11 A step nearer - The Drybridge hall that has been proposed to be built on an open space just beyond the former railway bridge leading towards the settlement came a step nearer with outline planning application having been made.

The last fund-raising function by the Community Association was a Spring Fete held in the Community Hall at Clochan on Saturday 1st April which was followed by a dance.

Millennium Medals for this year's babies - Buckie babies born in Millennium Year will receive a medal courtesy of the community council when they are registered and living in the town. The community council will also give medals to babies who were born this year but before this announcement was made. The medals will be the same as those given to all the Primary School pupils.

Highland League Football - Elgin City 0 Buckie Thistle 2. Ninety-one years of Jags and City derbies came quietly to a close at Boroughbriggs, Elgin, on Saturday. Everyone had hoped that the last Highland League clash between the two great rivals would be a typical match of thrills, spills and controversies, sadly this was not the case.

April 18 Young Cullen man killed - David Bruce Main, 12 Cathay Terrace, Cullen died as a result of a motor vehicle accident on the A98 Cullen to Portsoy road on Wednesday 12 April. He was on his way to visit his girl friend in Portsoy when he went off the road.

A distinguished man - One of Cullen's most distinguished sons has gone with the passing of Rev. Professor Wm. Duff McHardy CBE. D. Phil. DD. MA.

Former footballer - Tommy Lawson died at his home 17 Linn Crescent after a long illness. He played for Fochabers in the Moray Junior League before moving up to the Highland League with Buckie Thistle in the 1950's and later with Rothes. He served his apprenticeship as a slater and joined Marley Tiles in 1964 with who he remained for 33 years becoming Technical Sales Rep. in the Aberdeen area before retiring through ill health. He was a keen golfer and played at Strathlene. He leaves his wife Betty and two children, Gordon and Anne.

April 25 Do you fancy a get-the- gether - Billy McGoldrick spent only one season with Rosemount, an Aberdeen junior club but enjoyed a reunion of former players so much that he felt that a reunion of past Rovers' players could be similarly enjoyed – a shared meal, a drink or two and good old blether of past times.

Billy who played for both Buckie Thistle and Rothes in the Highland League played for Buckie Rovers from 1968 to 1970 and went on to become an official of the club, advised those who shared his idea to give him a call.

The end of her stint - Edna Legge received jewellery, a jewellery voucher and flowers from staff and former colleagues at Seafield Hospital and Ardach when she retired recently as senior clerical officer at Seafield Hospital after 35 years.

May 2 On the web – The 'Banffshire Advertiser' goes live on the Internet on Tuesday 9th May - <http://www.banffshireadvertiser.com>.

They went abroad - Buckie and District Pipe Band spent a busy weekend in the Netherlands. Their hosts paid all costs apart from travel and also did fund-raising for the band when they were there.

This was the first time that the band had been abroad and it was their first outing in their royal blue jackets which proved a big hit with the band members themselves and also the Dutch public.

Weet wither causes problems. Heavy rain that persisted over three days caused considerable flooding in different parts of Buckie. A photograph shows the Linzee Gordon Park looking like a lake. Household on Steinbeck Road saw their gardens under water as it seeped through the walls on to their property. This occurs whenever there is prolonged rain. Considerable damage was done elsewhere, especially at Drybridge, Oran and where the bridge crosses the Burn of Cairnfield part of the roadway was washed away. At Drybridge large stones put in the Letter Burn to help stop the burn overflowing its banks were moved away.

Buckie Rotary AGM - The officials appointed to serve for year 200/01 were President – Bill Davidson; senior vice president – David Wood; vice president – Jim Farquhar; secretary Alex Fowler; treasurer – Ali Simpson.

May 9 A bonny day for a new event - A brand new venture for Buckie reaped the benefit of the first real warm and sunny weather of early summer on Saturday when a crowd of people turned out to support the first Buckie Seafoods Fayre launched in conjunction with the Speyside Whisky Festival 2000 event. It was held in and around the harbour and in the fishmarket. The organisers were Stewart Buchannan, Kevin McKay and Dougal Simpson.
See on page one what was all there. There are also a number of photographs.

The Fishing Heritage - Buckie District Fishing Heritage Museum will very shortly sign a lease with Moray Council which will safeguard the future of the Cottage as the home for the fishing museum. Chairman of the group Willie Mair revealed the news at the AGM. The Heritage, he said, had agreed to accept the terms of the lease and it was returned to Moray Council for signing.

May 16 New reporter at the 'Advertiser' - Nathaniel Anderson, who prefers to be called Nat, a native of Fordyce who has been working in Huntly and Keith on the sister papers of the 'Advertiser' has now joined Lorna Campbell on the Buckie editorial team. He replaces George Boardman who has moved to the Banffshire Journal.

Advert – Come see the Young Ladies fashions at the Grapevine 40 East Church Street. Pedal pushers with draw string bottoms; black bell bottom trousers.

The fishing scene - Six boats landed 280 boxes of white fish, 120 boxes of prawns and 304 bags of scallops. The boats were - Aspire, Monadliath, Zephyr, Caroline Dawn, Deeside and Rival.

St Peter's Church - major renovations - The main contractor are Hall and Tawse an Aberdeen firm with a branch in Elgin. The site foreman Mike McLauchlan explained to a reporter from the 'Advertiser'; that in previous renovation work red-coloured cement had been used to point repairs on the stone work. Rain water had seeped in behind the cement and remained there to the detriment of the stone, which began to erode. This time when all the stone work will be attended to the gaps between the stones will be raked back and pointed with lime as it was originally with red sand from Fife being mixed with the lime to give a good match. Lime is far more porous than cement and any water that does seem in will not gather but quickly dry up.

When asked where the red stone had come from Mike was unable to say. He said that there was a lot of Red sandstone in the Turriff area and also in the Black Isle but this was some distance away when transports over land was by horse and cart. He was of the opinion that it could have come in by sea .

He said that a new stone cross was to be made to replace the wooden one that was rotten. A specialist firm from Aberdeenshire was to do repairs to the stain glass windows, while the slater department of Forsyth's of Rothes were to check all the slates and roof timbers. For a fuller report see page 10.

May 23 Vandals strike twice - Archibald's Garage, Barhill Road, proprietor Eddie Malcolm, suffered from the work of vandals twice on the same evening , smashing windows on the showroom , stealing radio cassettes and charity collection boxes besides doing damage to parked cars. It is reckoned the damage done would amount to £3000.

St Peter's Church - the stonework - Allan Fraser in a letter to this edition of the 'Advertiser' referred to the site foreman not knowing where the stone had come from, he said that it had been documented that it came from Tarwathie (south of Buckie). Having said that Allan went further to say that a lot of the same stone was used in the building of houses in Portgordon , this being dug out at low tide east and west of the harbour. He described it as a poor building material, extremely vulnerable to erosion, falling down behind the lath and plaster and building up behind the skirting to cause damp. Having served his time as a plasterer he had often had the job of clearing the loose material away. (When typing this up in 2006 Allan would have said that he was coming round to the idea of the stone coming in from sea, from the Black Isle area, as he had looked in the vicinity of Tarwathie and had still to discover where the amount of rock required could have been quarried. On the question of stone coming in by sea it is known that the present South and West Church was taken to Buckie by this means and around the same time. The next question is when so much sandstone was being taken to such as Buckie from Hopeman why would they have gone as far as the Black Isle for Red Sandstone when they were already using Hopeman stone in different parts of St Peter's.)

'Look Back to the Past' - This is now being done each week by Bill Skene.

May 30 Mair hale watter and damage deen - - Another weekend of heavy rain increased the amount of damage done to the roadway at the bridge over the Burn of Cairnfield with the road closed to traffic at present.

Can we carry on ? A Buckie charity group, Friends of Seafield and Community Patients that has raised more than £40,000 in the past nine years is facing an uncertain future unless more people become involved in its work. The annual general meeting held recently was poorly attended.

Probus Club officials appointed - President – Jim Reid; vice president – George Fleming; secretary Bob Jamieson, treasurer, Hugh Patience. Committee – John Fowlie, John Smith, Arnold Pirie and Past President Jim Findlay.

A grand reunion - More than 150 former pupils gathered recently in the Marine Hotel for the reunion of the class that began their secondary education at Buckie High School in 1972. The number that attended far exceeded the expectations of the organisers with a number of those attending coming in from overseas. Tentative plans were made for another reunion perhaps in 2010.

Probus Club guest speakers - The members of Buckie and District Probus Club have recently enjoyed talks given Mrs Grace Morrison, formerly Assistant Headteacher at Cluny Primary and Mr Joe Sutherland, an American, who has been pastor of the Church of Christ (West Church Street), for the past few years. A good report on both speeches is given on page 9 and is worth reading.

A car as a parting gift - Dougie Forbes, who retired recently as a mechanic at Archibald's Garage on Barhill Road received a new Citroen Saxa from his late employers Edwin and Elma Malcolm as a retiral present. He is seen in a photograph at the presentation. A second photograph on the same page was taken at the garage in 1951 on the week that Dougie started working as an apprentice mechanic. Others in the photograph are Bob Archibald, senior, Bob Archibald, junior, John Geddes, apprentice, Elky (Alex) Clark, engineer/mechanic and Dougie Forbes.

Advert – Denim Plus – Grapevine – 38-40 East Church Street.

The SNP choose their candidate - The SNP has officially adopted a Moray journalist as the prospective candidate for Moray in the next UK General Election. Angus Robertson was based in Vienna for seven years as a foreign affairs and diplomatic correspondent for leading broadcasters including the BBC.

June 6 The Women's Federation - The end of an era has arrived for a venerable local institution with the news that the Women's Federation, formerly the Women's Gas Federation is set to be disbanded.

At the May AGM of the group the issue of falling numbers was raised and at a subsequent extraordinary committee meeting on 7th June it was decided to disband the group.

The group was originally established by the Gas Board as a vehicle for education when gas was a novel source of power and heat.

However, following gas privatisation, the group continued under their new name but in recent years the numbers of members had fallen dramatically with only 26 remaining so as Mrs Janet Murray, President, said it was not practicable to continue. The closing date has still to be decided.

Another step along the road - Drybridge Community Association have received notification that outline planning consent for a proposed Community Hall at Drybridge has granted by Moray Council.

Player of the Year Awards - Buckie Rovers F.C. handed out the awards to the following players - Young Player of the Year – David Mowat; Manager's Player of the Year - Jason Brockie; Committee's Player of the Year and Player's Player of the Year – Mark Wood.

The season ends badly - The Rovers were beaten by four goals to one against Forres Thistle in the Final of the Morayshire Trophy. The team was – Wojcik, Mowat, Brockie, Matheson, Cormack (Nicol) , J Shewan, Lyon, McRae, Wood, Slater, Costello (Fielding), Subs. M. Shewan, M. Graham.

June 20 Building application has them worried - A planning application submitted by Buckie Shipyards Limited for a change of use at the former Jones Shipyard site to residential housing has sparked off concern amongst Ianstown's residents. Report on page 1. (The subject was still under discussion in September 2006.)

Four of the Heritage crew - A photograph shows members of the Fishing Heritage as they prepare to put the sign back up. They are Allan Fraser, Peter Bruce, Willie Mair and Alistair Coull. The Fishing Heritage Museum, popularly known as 'The Cottage' will open its doors a fraction later than in the season than usual following a process of refurbishment that had to be carried out for health and safety reasons. In the report on page three a detailed account is given of what was done.

Local artist writes about David West - An article found on page 5 tells how Cullen artist Duncan Wood is about to publish a book about David West of Lossiemouth - 1868-1936 – whose work is much sought after. (My mother was given a picture by David West by my sister Violet many years ago, perhaps in the early 1950's, who told her how it would become more valuable as the years went by.)

The Rathburn Hotel - Formerly the residence of Alexander Archibald, one time Lord Lieutenant of Banffshire, on March Road, a well known Buckie landmark could be set for a £500,000 face lift if outline planning permission is granted. PDQ Holding Ltd, an Edinburgh based development company with strong local connections have lodged an application with Moray Council for outline planning consent to convert the former hotel into a dwelling house, erect two further dwellings to the east of the hotel in the former garden and six flats to the west of the hotel. (The complete planned project never took place although the building was bought and changed back into a dwelling house in 2005 by a local man.)
